

Our Environment competition 2016

Making our environment better

Do you have a passion for the environment and want to make a difference to your community?

Yes?

Then tell us your ideas to improve your local environment, and you could win some fabulous prizes as well!

Scotland's environment

www.environment.scotland.gov.uk

How to do this

We want you to:

- find a local environmental problem;
- investigate it;
- tell us how you would reduce the problem and make your environment better.

Prizes

£100 will be awarded to the winners of each of the competition age categories.

The overall winning entry will win £1,000, as well as help and support to take the idea forward. This entry will also be nominated for the Young Scot Awards.

Competition details

The competition is open to those of primary and secondary school age living in Scotland.

Entries can be made as:

- an individual;
- a school class or club;
- part of a youth group.

These can be submitted in any electronic format, e.g. animation, artwork, audio/video or written work.

Submit your entries by 31 March 2016.

Further information

Further information about the competition, as well as examples from previous years, can be found on Scotland's Environment Web:

www.environment.scotland.gov.uk